Funeral of Field Marshal Earl Haig Military Pageant

Three of King George's Sons Lead Sad Procession Through Streets of London—Great Leaders of Allied Forces Pallbearers—Simple Burial At Scotland.

London, Feb. 3 (AP)—While all England mourned and three sons of its king led the three-mile procession from St. Columba's to Westminster Abbey, the body of Field Marshal Earl Haig today was borne through the streets of London in one of the greatest military pageants in the history of the British capital.

It was a pageant of poignant memories. The casket was wrapped in a weather-worn Union Jack which had served a similar function on the cenotaph—Britain's memorial to her hero dead.

The body also was borne on the gun carriage on which had been mounted the gun which fired Britain's first shot in the World War. It was the same gun carriage, too, on which the body of Britain's unknown soldier was taken to his last resting place.

Today, seven mounted men drew it slowly and men's heads everywhere were bared as the casket came into sight and passed along the thoroughfares.

To the muffled music of a military band, the procession moved through silent streets crowded with tens of thousands of men, women and children. There were many weeping women and most of them wore black and carried little bunches of red paper Flanders poppies symbolical of heroic sacrifice and devotion.

There were numerous medalled men along the line of march and other veterans who had fought in France and Flanders fields under Britain's great soldier. Many of them, carrying scars from the battlefields, made no effort to hide their emotion.

Foch and Petain Pallbearers.

Behind the casket were the pallbearers chosen from among the great leaders of the allied forces. They were headed by Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied and associated armies in the war, and Marshal Petain, commander of the French armies. Both wore the long light blue coats of the French army and their caps were of red and gold.

Lt. General Baron De Ceyninck, representing the Belgian army, came next with Field Marshal Lord Methuen, despite his eighty-two years, alert and firm of step, marching with bowed head. The plumes on the hats of the field marshals waved gently in a breeze which at times was dampened by mists and a suggestion of rain as the long procession slowly made its way to England's great abbey of remembrance.

Earl Jellicoe and Admiral Earl Beatty walked side by side. Sir Hugh Trenchard, in royal air force blue, represented the flying service.

Most Touching Spectacle.

Then came perhaps the most touching spectacle of the procession as seen by the public—Earl Haig's batman, or devoted servant for nearly thirty years, Sergeant Secrett, who was with the field marshal when he died and walked sorrowfully with bowed head in the wake of the gun carriage.

Three of King George's sons were in the sad procession—the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and Prince Henry.

England began its final farewell to her great field marshal who led Britain's armies to victory in the war, at a service in St. Columba's, Earl Haig's own little church, this morning, and again at Westminster Abbey, but it was mostly by the crowded thousands in the streets that the nation paid homage to the man who led the military forces that saved it and whose body now is on its way back to Scotland for a simple burial among his ancestors.

SCHALK THREATENS TO BE STERN MANAGER

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP).—A stern master will direct the White Sox through the coming season, if baseball observers have correctly interpreted Manager Ray Schalk's change of attitude.

Last season, those who watched the White Sox work often expressed the opinion that Schalk was too easy on some of the veterans. Many times when plays went wrong, Schalk took them smiling and forgave easily.

This season, matters appear different. Those who have observed the manager say he threatens to be sterner than John J. McGraw of the Giants. His first rule of the training season is that all players must train twice daily, instead of the usual single session. Fines and other penalties, unheard of on the club last year, are also to be applied this season.

Werrenrath Told Of Coming Nuptial

Famous Singer Told Schubert Choral Club Members Monday Night He Was to Wed—Was Married Thursday.

Reinald Werrenrath, the celebrated concert barytone who was soloist at the concert given by the Schubert Choral Club at the Kingston High School auditorium on Monday night of this week, was married on Thursday to Verna Nidig of Chevy Chase and Washington, in Weehawken, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Mayor Emile Grauert of Weehawken at his home. Mr. Werrenrath's mother and a brother of the bride were witnesses.

Mr. Werrenrath is forty-four years old. His bride is twenty-four. They obtained their license in Hudson county, New Jersey. Mayor Grauert said he had been told the wedding was to be kept secret, according to the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Werrenrath, who has been living until recently at 2222 Andrews avenue, The Bronx, gave 36 East Seventy-third street as his address.

His first wife, who was Ada Petersen of Hudson, South Dakota, obtained a divorce last November in Reno, Nevada, on the ground of desertion. They were married December 6, 1909, and have three children. By the terms of the divorce they had joint custody of the children.

When members of the Schubert Choral Club were grouped around Mr. Werrenrath at the close of the concert at the high school Monday night listening to some of his stories of his early musical career, Mr. Werrenrath laughingly said he was to be married within the next three months, but the members of the club who heard him thought he was joking.

Sensational Win For Dr. Peltzer

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Dr. Otto Peltzer, German philosopher, and foot racing champion, had to his credit today a sensational victory over some of America's foremost middle distance runners after his much discussed indoor debut in the Millrose track and field carnival.

While the doctor's most formidable American rival, Lloyd Hahn, spent his time coasting to an easy one-mile victory, the German star last night brought a Madison Square Garden crowd of 12,000 spectators to its feet yelling as he raced to a thrilling triumph in a 1,000-yard race over nine American runners.

There were no record breaking thrills to the debut of Dr. Peltzer, who holds the world's half mile standard, but the tall blonde Teuton exhibited a flashy brand of speed, as well as unusual gameness, in winning under strange and difficult conditions.

Ray Dodge, member of the 1924 Olympic team and former national 1,000-yard champion, furnished the chief opposition for Peltzer after the pack had sifted out from the starting line. These two put up a stirring nip and tuck duel over the last three laps of the six-lap race but Peltzer had the most in stamina reserve and won by five yards in 2 minutes, 18¾ seconds. The world's record for the distance, 2:12 4-5, is held by Hahn.

For the special entertainment after the business has been transacted, the auditorium of the school will become the scene of two playlets, entitled "Moonshine" and "Stage Struck", prepared by some of the talented actresses in the sodality.

Kiwanians Hear Maurice Safford

Visited Local Club at Weekly Luncheon and Describes Conditions as He Finds Them In Illinois—Interesting Entertainment Program Presented.

Kiwanis Club for the first time this year heard the new chairman of the reception committee welcome a new member at its weekly meeting and luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel, and Ben Suskind in welcoming Frank Pitts to membership certainly had the ideals and aspirations of Kiwanis well outlined in his brief speech. Old as well as new members appreciated it and felt their enthusiasm for the upbuilding spirit strengthened materially.

Kiwanian Maurice E. Safford, whose duties take him far afield, was present, being gladly welcomed even though he was in town only for a day while enroute to New York. He has been in Canton, Illinois, for the past few weeks and reported very good conditions for that portion of the state. There is a large division of the International Harvester Company at Canton where they are making especially machinery for harvesting southern crops, particularly tobacco and cotton. It seems that there have lately been several very radical improvements in this kind of machinery, this being the first year that the machines have been put out as a commercial proposition. Naturally a plant of this size employing a large number of people has quite an influence upon the city and surrounding territory. Industrial prosperity seems assured for this section for many months.

But also for other reasons this section of Illinois is prosperous, Mr. Safford reported. His work has also caused him to be intimately associated with the farming community where conditions are greatly improved over his visit of a few years ago. The so-called land depression following the conclusion of the war has been met by a more intensive farming program so that the farmer finds himself with a stabilized land value and at the same time a more productive and diversified system of farm crops.

Kiwanis Clubs throughout Illinois have been very active in their support of educational farm projects and real investigations by true dirt farmers who have been able to show in many cases a means of profit where only a deficit loomed before. Many of the things related seemed rather strange to an easterner who had always been accustomed to many crops upon small acreage but it must be remembered that only in very recent years have the big "four forties" and "eight-eighties" of Civil War days been broken up into what easterners would call large farms.

Kiwanis Future.

Secretary Fred Childsey had received a partial report of a speech of John H. Moss of Milwaukee, a past president of the organization, who among other pertinent remarks anent Kiwanis and its future said: "To be true to ourselves we must accept the responsibilities of service to humanity and grant rights to others as we ourselves would like them. This freedom that we now enjoy or any other that we may get is not for those who abuse it or do not appreciate the rights as citizens of the community and state. * * * No country is greater than the average of its citizens and they must all strive together in the building up of all the potentialities for a prosperous future."

Station ZUCCA Broadcasts.

Lest the members of the club should think that all Kiwanis luncheons were given over to weighty speakers, a delightful treat had been arranged for the entertainment of the members by Paul Zucca. Through the courtesy of the Cornell Steamboat Company and the Central Hudson Gas and Electric System, Paul was able to present John Erne's Imperial Broadcasting Orchestra. This organization is a talented one, consisting of John Erne and Charles Whittaker, saxophonists, Daniel Bittner, pianist, and Julius Tilyean, violinist. The entertainment was announced by Paul Zucca as a burlesque on radio broadcasting and was said to be station ZUCCA broadcasting from the Governor Clinton Hotel with Graham Crackers at the plate. Whether it was in deference to the luncheon or the approaching baseball season that the proverbial "mike" became a plate, the announcer did not state. At any rate the large invisible audience who sat around the room smoking at their ease certainly did enjoy the radio program, which was so plainly heard without any static whatsoever. Several of the members made it the more realistic by sending in telegrams which showed that the program was appreciated in many ways. One of the most pleasing numbers was "Is She My Girl Friend"? Another selection receiving much applause was "Her Father Was a Dentist so She Had Her Nerve", a saxophone duet rendered with much feeling by Messrs. Erne and Whittaker. The entertainment closed with a rendering of "What'll You Do", and when Bill Glass said that what he for one would do would be to offer hearty thanks to the orchestra for their wonderful entertainment, the idea was received with much approval by all. It is hoped that some time soon again station ZUCCA will broadcast on wave length Hudson River.

Stage Set for K. of C. Charity Ball at Armory

Committees Complete Arrangements for Accommodation of Record Crowd Tonight — Entertainment and Music for Dancing Outstanding Features—Financial Success Assured.

The ninth annual K. of C. Charity Ball given under the auspices of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, will take place this evening at the New York state armory. The committees in charge have been working hard for the success, socially and financially, of this ball and present indications forecast a great triumph. The entire proceeds are for charity and from the large list of patrons and returns from members of the local order of Knights a substantial amount will again be realized. Those desirous of attending and who have not secured their tickets may do so this evening at the entrance to the armory.

The dual purpose of contributing to the charity fund of the local Knights of Columbus and enjoying an evening of pleasure in viewing the entertainment and dancing, is expected to bring out a record crowd. Each year great crowds turn out for this affair and this year's function is expected to surpass former successes.

Great preparations have been made for the comfort of all those who will attend. The seating in the big drill shed is systematically arranged so that all might see the performers unobstructed. The refreshment, flower and cigar booths are also prepared to do a land office business.

The decorations, artistic and novel, have turned the big drill shed into a veritable fairyland. On either side of the armory are the big band stands leaving the entire center of the floor for the entertainment and assembly dancing. The seating arrangement this year will also afford more space for dancing.

Concert Music Program.

The doors of the armory will be opened at 7:30 o'clock to admit the early arrivals. The concert, which will be rendered by John Erne's Imperial Broadcasting Orchestra, will be from 8 to 9 o'clock. From 9 to 10 o'clock the entertainment will be staged. Dancing will follow the program of entertainment.

NICHOLS SAYS ROSENDALE CEMENT CAN COME BACK

People of the vicinity whose memory goes back perhaps thirty years, will recall the cheerful industry of Rosendale in her prime, before the failure of the cement business brought with it the decline of Rosendale. George W. Nichols, now of Binnewater, believes that for some uses Rosendale cement is better than the Portland cement that took its place, and that with proper enterprise Rosendale will become once more her old prosperous self.

Mr. Nichols has made a six years' study of hard facts. He has sought to provoke discussion and work includes a review of government statistics, giving our cement exports and imports from Europe and Canada.

Mrs. Keator Was Bitten by Dog

Fox Terrier Ran Wild on Wall Street Thursday Afternoon, Biting Several People—Dog Caught and Killed by Officer Burger.

Mrs. Harold Keator of Lake Katrine was bitten in the leg Thursday afternoon by a fox terrier that ran wild on Wall street, and which was finally caught on St. James street and killed by the police after the animal had bitten several other people whose names were not ascertained.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon the police received word that there was a mad dog running wild on the uptown streets and a general alarm was sent out and several officers were assigned to the case.

Some time afterward police headquarters received word from a family on St. James street that they had a strange dog at the home which was vicious. Officer Guernsey Burger was sent to the house in the police car and removed the dog to the Municipal Building where it was killed.

After biting several people in the uptown business section, the dog, which was unlicensed, was knocked down by an auto on St. James street and a family, seeing the dog's plight, took it into the house. When the animal had somewhat recovered from the shock it attempted to bite members of the family which led to them telephoning to the police.

After the dog had been killed by the police the board of health was notified and Dr. Harold Clarke removed the animal's head which was turned over to Mr. Keator who said he would take it to the Lederle Laboratories in New York city, to have it examined to ascertain if the animal was suffering from rabies.

Mrs. Keator after having the wound cauterized by a physician returned to her home in Lake Katrine. Her husband is employed by the West Shore railroad. The Keators are former residents of this city.

Padlock Hotel At Ellenville

Storman's Hotel, formerly the Backman House at Ellenville, was padlocked Tuesday evening by U. S. Deputy Marshal Pack for violation of the prohibition law, says the Ellenville Press. The place with several others in that vicinity was raided by federal officers several months ago. A month ago Federal Judge Knox in New York ordered several places padlocked. Listed in the order were: Backman Hotel, Ellenville; Higgins', Ellenville; "Soffer," Ellenville, and Mrs. T. Buessler, Kerhonkson. At this time, however, the only Ellenville place to be padlocked was the Backman House. The Buessler place at Kerhonkson was also closed by Deputy Pack on Tuesday.

K. H. S. STUDENTS HEAR TALK ON CHINA.

At the Kingston High School auditorium Thursday morning S. H. Atwater gave a very interesting talk on China. The speaker explained the customs of the people and the dress now in vogue. The custom of binding the feet was described by Mr. Atwater. An elderly woman was discovered to be wearing slippers that a year-old baby in America would wear.

Many articles were displayed and described, which were made by the people in China at the rate of fifteen cents a day. He also emphasized the unsanitary conditions that prevail there. A trip through China would make Americans more appreciative of their nation.

Fire Sweeps Fall River Destroying 6 City Blocks

More Than a Score of Buildings, Including Two Theatres, Six Banks, Three Hotels and Several of the Largest Office Structures Leveled—Loss Estimated at From Seven to Twelve Million Dollars—Five Firemen Injured, None Believed Seriously.

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 3 (AP).—An irregular area covering six city blocks was a mass of charred and burning debris today as the result of a fire which swept the center of this city's business district with a loss estimated at from $7,000,000 to $12,000,000.

More than a score of buildings, including two theatres, six banks, three hotels and several of the largest office structures, were reduced to blackened walls and glowing pits of ruins.

Fire apparatus summoned from points as distant as Providence, R. I., and Boston, and a dozen other cities, jammed the streets and continued to pour thousands of gallons of water into the debris.

Started In Abandoned Mill.

The blaze, which started in the abandoned No. 1 mill of the Pocasset Manufacturing Company on Pocasset street, swept with startling rapidity all before it, and it was not until 2:30 o'clock this morning that it was finally under control, eight hours after the first alarm had been sounded.

The burned area reached from the corner of Pocasset and Main streets and north to Bank.

The Mechican House, the city's leading hotel, quickly emptied its 400 rooms and an hour later was destroyed. The Granite block, the largest office building in the city, was another early victim as was the Rialto Theatre where an audience was viewing a picture when the first alarm came. Another theatre destroyed was the Premier.

Despite reports that several firemen had been killed by falling walls, a check showed only five had been injured. None was believed seriously hurt.

Cut Off From Outside World.

Throughout the height of the blaze the city was cut off from the outside world. Telephone service failed at 11 o'clock when operators were ordered from the exchange building on Main street. For a while it appeared certain that the telephone plant was doomed but valiant efforts by firemen finally saved the structure and today service was normal except in and near the burned area.

Both the western Union and Postal telegraph offices went out. At the former the operators worked feverishly to send out news of the fire until their own building was in flames. The record in the log of the office said the men stuck until their shoes were burned.

Low Water Pressure and Wind.

Lack of water pressure was a constant handicap to firemen who also suffered from the cold wind which wipped the flames before it.

One newspaper lost all its equipment while another suffered severe damage. The L'Independent, French language newspaper, had its plant destroyed. The Herald-News, which had just moved into a new building, was a heavy loser, while the Fall River Globe, whose walls proved an effectual barrier against the flames in one direction, had its basement flooded by water but was otherwise undamaged. The old Herald-News building was one of the burned structures.

Liggett Owned Burned Mills.

The Pocasset Mills where the fire started were in the process of being dismantled. The property was formerly used for textile manufacturing purposes but has been idle about two years and is owned by Louis K. Liggett of Boston, head of the United Drug Company.

Numerous small blazes in the residential districts were caused by flying embers but these were extinguished without difficulty. One fire, however, destroyed the tower of the Merchants' Mill two miles from the downtown district.

Steps in Path of Trolley, Killed.

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 3 (AP)—The first street car fatality in more than a year occurred in this city last night when John Orvis, sixty, stepped in front of a rapidly moving trolley car, sustaining a crushed skull. Witnesses say the man walked into the path of the car, oblivious of its approach.

78th Birthday for Canfield Company

Golden Rule Inn was the scene of a very pleasant gathering Thursday evening when 35 employes of the Canfield Supply Company with their wives and friends gathered for a delightful chicken dinner and evening of games, music and white sports. Some members of the force were unable to be present.

The occasion for the gathering was the 78th birthday of the Canfield Supply Company, which was established in 1850. This was also the wedding anniversary of Irving Lowe, the stock clerk, but owing to a previous social engagement he was unable to be present. Also, this was the birthday of Wesley Holden, of the furnace and sheet metal department.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Canfield orchestra and vocal sextette.

The happy crowd was transported back and forth with Canfield's fleet of eight cars. A very enjoyable evening was had by all and all are looking forward to the next anniversary of the Canfield Supply Company.

Sanford W. Smith On Supreme Bench

Well Known Columbia County Lawyer Appointed by Governor Smith to Succeed Judge Cochrane—Senate Confirms Appointment.

Albany, Feb. 3 (AP).—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Sanford W. Smith of Chatham as a justice of the Supreme court for the Third judicial district. Justice Smith will fill the vacancy caused by the recent resignation of Aaron V. S. Cochrane of Hudson.

Judge Smith is a Republican and is well known in Ulster county where he has many friends. He has served as an assemblyman, senator, deputy attorney general and judge of the court of claims. His immediate confirmation by the senate is an honor accorded to few nominees.

The Albany Knickerbocker Press, in announcing that Judge Smith would receive the appointment, says:

The appointment of Mr. Smith to the Supreme court bench by the Democratic governor is likely to be made the basis for a drive for the election of a nonpartisan judiciary ticket in the Third district this year when two justices will stand for election.

Even if the Republican organizations in the Third judicial district decline to indorse the Democratic nominee, who undoubtedly will be Justice George W. Smith of Monticello, Sullivan county, as has been urged from Democratic quarters, the Democratic organization leaders of Albany and the other counties intend to raise the issue at election time for a nonpartisan judiciary by asking Republicans to support Justice Smith, the Democrat, and intimating that Democrats will support Justice Smith, the Republican.

For years, the Democrats have been unable to elect a Supreme court justice in this district, even with the aid of tremendous pluralities in Albany county and with aid in Troy and Sullivan county.

Republican chiefs see no reason why they should not be able to elect a Republican judicial ticket in the district next election since it will be a presidential year.

George Washington told his father the truth about the cherry tree. He wasn't so dumb. George knew when he was caught with the goods, all right.

Her: "Oh, how nice! and which will you raise—cigars or cigarettes?"

Give me a spoon of oleo, Ma,
And the sodium alkali,
For I'm going to make a pie, Mama!
I'm going to make a pie;
For Dad will be hungry and tired, Ma,
And his tissues will decompose;
So give me a gram of phosphate,
And the carbon and cellulose.
Now give me a chunk of casein, Ma,
To shorten the termic fat,
And give me the oxygen bottle, Ma,
And look at the thermostat.
And if the electric oven is cold,
Just turn in on half an ohm,
For I want to have supper ready
As soon as Dad comes home.

WHEN WE MAKE GOLD.

Dr. Joseph Schumpeter, German exchange professor at Harvard, says that we shall probably, in this generation, see gold manufactured in sufficient quantity to endanger the gold standard. This means synthetic gold, or gold made by the modern alchemy. Presumably it would be transmuted from one of the allied metals, particularly mercury or lead, by changing the number and arrangement of the electrons in the atoms of the baser metal. Our own scientists have already tried that, and failed, but one of these days somebody may succeed in a laboratory experiment, and then it will merely remain to develop "quantity production".

What would happen in such a case? It would be very fine for art and industry, with cheap gold available. Innumerable new uses would be found for that wonderful metal. We might have gold plated dishes as common as porcelain, and gold handled cutlery, and golden plumbing if we wanted it, and many household articles of solid gold, as they did in Utopia.

But in finance it would be a different matter. "All treasuries would lose their physical value, gold coinage would stop and the gold standard be discarded. In all other respects our economic system would remain unchanged." That, however, would be enough for a while. There would be a terrific financial and economic unsettlement throughout the world while civilization was getting from a gold standard to some other—possibly an "absolute standard" which would serve as a fixed and permanent measure of values.

UNPREJUDICED MOVIES.

It was natural for racial groups in this country and foreign lands to protest against the silly habit of some American movie makers of depicting all heroes as Americans and all villains as citizens of whatever country was supposedly represented in any given picture. The protests are taking effect. It is rumored that now there are pictures in which Mexicans are heroes instead of villains. Men of Germany, France, England, and other lands are shown as quite respectable persons instead of the beer-soaking, philandering, stupid creatures of former representations.

Two good things may come out of this change, forced by the indignation of insulted foreigners. One is that the pictures themselves will improve. When producers have to give up their stock types of good men and bad men, honest natives and crooked aliens, they will have to base their plots on human emotions and actions sufficiently well depicted to carry the story without racial and national prejudices.

The other possible good thing—this seems almost too much to hope for—may be a gradual lessening of these prejudices. No sudden, miraculous switch from prejudice to universal brotherhood is anticipated, but only a slight lessening of the belligerent and contemptuous attitude fostered in the past by certain types of super-patriotic movies, books and plays.

One of the things of international moment considered at the Pan-American conference has been American movies. Many of the Latin-American delegates felt that their race had not been treated with enough respect by our film producers. When a Mexican or Chilean or other Latin neighbor has been portrayed in film drama, it has been usually as a bad man. Heroic qualities have been reserved for our own fellow-countrymen. A resolution presented by the Salvador delegation asks to have this evil corrected, and to have Latin-America portrayed more "truly". It is a legitimate request. It would be bad enough if the films were made merely for home consumption, ministering to our self-pride and prejudice. But the movies are made for a world market and exert a powerful international influence for good or ill.

The leader of a religious cult in Illinois is reported to have gone on a world tour with a view to prove his contention that the earth is flat. Though he may rejoice to find the earth more or less flat all the way around, what sort of an explanation will be give to his flock when he returns to his town from the Pacific instead of from the Atlantic coast?

Just as Northern and Western farmers were beginning to be doubtful as to the effect on the winter season of a winter almost without snow, the biggest white blanket of years descended and covered the ground throughout vast sections. After temporary confusion nature can be depended on to perform as usual.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

DIAGNOSING ABDOMINAL AILMENT BY PATIENT'S BEHAVIOR.

I have spoken before about the three types of physique that you will see on the beach, in a gymnasium, or in fact anywhere.

There is the type with the short body and long legs, that with the long body and short legs, and the third type with body and legs that appear to be about in the proper proportion.

I mentioned the illnesses that were most likely to attack each type; the short body, lung and stomach ailments; the long wide body, heart, bloodvessel and kidney ailments.

However Drs. G. Draper and E. B. McGraw of New York, have been studying types from another angle, and have discovered what they call the gall bladder type, and the stomach and intestinal ulcer type.

They distinguish them not so much by the appearance of their bodies, but by the way they behave mentally.

They have been able to demonstrate that the gall bladder type, the type with the sluggish liver, is not usually very excitable, shows little fearfulness, and reacts slowly to mental and physical suggestions.

The ulcer type, on the other hand, shows a mood that is away up or away down, he is very excitable, shows more fearfulness, but can adjust himself more quickly to circumstances than can the gall bladder type. They think and act more quickly also, but have really less endurance than the gall bladder type. They respond more quickly however to food and rest, and come back more quickly after periods of anxiety or depression.

Now this is very interesting, and for the most part physicians will be inclined to agree with their findings in reference to these two conditions.

However the question to ask ourselves is "Why do these types behave in this manner?"

Gall bladder trouble is practically always due to inactivity of the liver, that permits congestion in the gall bladder. The bile from the gall bladder doesn't do its work of stimulating the intestine to action, breaking up the fats, and rendering organisms harmless.

It is the poisoning of the system due to this and also to the liver not separating poisons from the blood, that makes gall bladder patients sluggish and depressed.

Your ulcer case is often a "nervous case." He is high strung, emotional, indiscreet and irregular in his dietary habits. This nervousness interferes with the impulses that go down from the brain to muscles of stomach and intestine which cause them to move regularly. This stoppage or stasis is a big factor in the causation of ulcer of stomach and intestine.

Thus systematic exercise would help both these types. The gall bladder type by stimulating the liver and the gall bladder, and the ulcer type by strengthening the entire body and developing muscular and mental control.

RURAL IMPROVEMENT MUST BEGIN AT HOME.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 2.—"Ninety per cent of all rural improvement is coming about as a result of the initiative of local communities," B. A. Felton, professor in rural sociology at the New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, said in speaking here today on the closing day program of Farmers' Week at Ohio State University.

"Farm homes are being connected with nearby electric power lines as fast as farmers unite into groups for such service. Farm homes thus have the cheer and convenience of city homes as well as some additional advantages. County libraries with rural delivery service have been established in 237 counties in the United States at an annual expense of about ten cents per capita, because the farmers of the county have united in such a project. Farm homes are thus continuing to be the seat of culture of our American life.

"Our traditional boast about the beauty of the countryside is being realized as we put on our planting and painting campaigns, placing shrubs, vines and trees around our grange halls, our rural schools and churches, and at the same time tearing down the antiquated horse sheds.

Fire Protection.

"All fires are the same size at first, and so we are installing apparatus for fire prevention and protection.

"Our largest tax expenditure for which there is no permanent return is for crime. All crime, too, is the same size at first, and is being prevented by healthful community social life and additional moral and religious training."

Prof. Felton urged each Grange represented at the State School of Methods to undertake some new local community projects during the year. He suggested that the Granges get a representative of the nearest electric power line to come and explain how the farms could get connected with an electric current. He urged that the Pomona Granges promote the county library campaign and get the help of the state librarian. He suggested that the next Grange picnic be a "beautification day" at which time the Grange hall, the school, the church or other public buildings should be beautified by a clean-up, paint-up and by planting shrubs, vines and trees. He proposed that each Grange appoint a school committee to cooperate with the teacher to plan the school hot lunch and also to install play apparatus at the school, such as swings and seesaws. He complimented the Granges on their new emphasis on dramatics as being a constructive move in checking the jazz and movie craze.

New Oldsmobile Shown in Kingston

The new Oldsmobile, "The Fine Car at Low Price," is being displayed for the first time in Kingston today by Southard-Belchert, Inc., local Oldsmobile dealers, at their new rooms, 339 Broadway.

The new Oldsmobile is powered by a newly-designed, six-cylinder, high compression engine which operates smoothly and proficiently on any grade of fuel now on the market. Radical provisions for quiet, smooth transportation abound throughout the chassis. The dash, so frequently a source of annoying rattles, has been cleared of accessories and silenced.

The engine is rubber mounted as an insulation against vibration and shock. And inside the mechanism four main bearings are used supporting the crankshaft, a design which assures maximum smoothness in a six-cylinder engine. A flexible central member within the clutch is a great improvement. Especially designed combustion chambers whose wall contour eliminates pre-ignition knocks is another feature.

Modish smartness and luxurious refinements are ably combined in the body by Fisher. The body is brilliantly finished and enriched by touches of sparkling chromium plate with individual panel treatment at the belt line and along the hood. Tailored, form-fitting cushions are used.

Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment on all models. In fact, all models are complete in equipment including rubber insulated bumpers, front and rear, vertical shutters on the radiator, water temperature indicator and gasoline gauge mounted on the dash and many other refinements that make the new Oldsmobile "The Fine Car of Low Price."

Tired people . . .

So MANY women, so many men, can't last through the day. Even mid-afternoon finds them listless and spent. Hopelessly tired.

What a difference it would mean if they but realized how constipation saps health and energy. How it steals youth. Mocks beauty. Kills ambition. How it leads in the end to untold diseases.

And it can be so easily relieved. So surely and safely prevented. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve it promptly and pleasantly. To prevent it ever beginning its deadly work.

Why "all-bran" is necessary

To relieve constipation naturally, the system must have plenty of bulk. ALL-BRAN, because it is 100% bran, furnishes bulk in generous quantity. It carries moisture through the intestines—exercising them, gently sweeping out poisons and wastes. There is seldom enough bulk to properly do this work in a part-bran product. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN — the 100% bran.

Farewell, dangerous drugs

How much better is ALL-BRAN than habit-forming pills and laxatives — whose dose must be constantly increased to remain effective. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a pleasant, healthful cereal food. Don't you agree that it is far safer and far better to correct constipation in this natural way than to risk pills, drugs or part-bran products?

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Sprinkle it into soups. Mix it with other cereals. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But insist on genuine Kellogg's. Don't risk part-bran substitutes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants. On dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

Ernest McGroucher and son John demonstrate that fire department speed can be introduced into any bedroom by the fragrance of Pillsbury's pancakes.

The mere mention of Pillsbury's pancakes brings 'em running—you'll find there's no breakfast the gentlemen of the family like as well as they do these remarkable pancakes. They're even better than the old-fashioned kind—light, tender, delicious, easy to digest. And they're far easier to make—simply add water or milk to Pillsbury's Pancake Flour and bake!

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Following in the Footsteps of the Smart, One Finds Them Less Inclined to Extravagancies and Exotic Effects in Shoes or Hosiery

Paris—What a long time ago it seems that anything but silk stockings were worn. Some of you, I am sure, cannot remember so far back. It does not require a great gift of prophecy to forsee the time again coming when novelty lisle stockings will not only be first choice for sports, but will be worn about town.

It is generally conceded that one tires even of a good thing, and the reign of the nude, chiffon silk hose has been long. Of course, one cannot substitute lisle or wool for this type of stocking for all purposes, but how many times there are that they could be substituted.

On the whole, there seems to be less desire on the part of smart women to affect frivolous footwear. Shoes have quieted down considerably. Black and brown, with an occasional navy kid to carry out the coloring of the costume, make the sum total of present-day footwear.

Over a Simple Frock of Toast-Colored Etamine, Bordered with an Interesting and Irregular Arrangement of folds, Chantal Poses a Three-Quarter Paletot of Navy Serge Related to the Frock Only by the Same Border of Narrow Folds.

Nor are evening slippers inclined to such extremes as formerly. Certainly straps are less intricate, and sandals have been replaced by types that more completely cover the foot.

During the winter there has been a sensible gesture toward models that protect the instep, although the Oxford, unless modified or lightened in some way, cannot truthfully be said to be a success. Oxford types are being worn, however. Black patent leather, suede, and calf, with an occasional lizard, enjoy the greatest favor.

A force of men is filling the large ice house on the Gould estate.

The annual meeting of the Community Circle will be held at Mrs. John Haynes's, Thursday, February 9.

Mrs. O. A. Todd entertained a goodly number at a covered luncheon Wednesday and spent time quilting. Proceeds to be used for church fair.

The many friends of John Crook, who was injured by a falling limb a short time ago, regret hearing he is not gaining as rapidly as they would have him.

TAX OFFICIALS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Albany, Feb. 3.—The sixth State Conference of local assessors and the Thirteenth State Tax Conference will be held in Chancellors Hall, State Education Building, Albany, February 28 and 29, March 1.

This joint conference brings into biennial convention the assessment and taxation officials of the cities, towns and villages, as well as the supervisors.

Governor Alfred E. Smith, Speaker Joseph A. McGinnies of the Assembly, Senator Seabury C. Mastick and Assemblyman Walter L. Pratt head the list of prominent state officials who will address the conference.

The assessment of real property for the purpose of taxation stands out conspicuously among the subjects to be discussed. The program provides for the treatment of this subject from the point of view of the home-owner and farmer, and business, industrial and public service corporation properties. At least one full session will be devoted to a "Question Box", during which answers to questions concerning local assessment problems will be given.

This conference usually attracts the attention of the assessment, taxation and other municipal officials of neighboring states, and a considerable number of these have already accepted invitations.

WHITE SOX SIGN BLACKBURNE AND WALSH

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP).—Russell "Lena" Blackburne, who held the technical batting leadership of the major leagues in 1927 with one time at bat and one hit on the first pitched ball, was signed today by the Chicago White Sox to coach again this year.

Manager Schalk was banished one day last year, Blackburne succeeding to the authority temporarily. When a pinch hitter was needed, Blackburne put himself into the pinch and delivered a timely single.

"Big Ed" Walsh, pitching ace of the Sox a dozen years ago, has been signed to coach the pitching staff.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By the Associated Press.)

New York.—Joan Taylor, 12 months old, plays real tunes on piano, whistles and sings. Her dad is Deems Taylor, composer and critic, who has just received an award of $5,000 from the Juilliard Foundation for his work in music. "It's a terrible thing to do for a lazy man," he remarked about the award.

New York.—A 400 year old astronomical ball, a globe of silver a foot in diameter, has come from Sweden for exhibition. Made in the 16th century, it depicts such heavenly bodies as were then known to astronomers. It is valued in Sweden at $100,000.

Paris.—The Lindbergh star now guides planes to Paris. The name has been given to an enormous searchlight on the top of Mount Valerien, near the American military cemetery at Suresnes. Lindbergh caught sight of it when 100 miles from his destination.

New York.—Vilma Banky, bride and beautiful blonde of the movies, is bound for Hungary alone to visit relatives that she has not seen since she became Mrs. Rod La Roque. Rod's film engagements she explains, prevented him from making it a honeymoon trip across continent and pond.

Milwaukee.—Birmingham's loss is Milwaukee's gain. An Alabama beauty and her husband who fell in love with her at first sight of her picture, are to live here. Theodore R. Froemming saw a picture of Miss Mabel Nesbitt of Birmingham in a Milwaukee newspaper. He wrote his admiration. There were more letters, then a visit. Now they are married.

London.—There's a new wrinkle in footwear for motoring eves—a species of golosh that protects the back of the shoe and prevents it from wearing out unduly from rubbing against brake, accelerator or clutch.

Streams That "Meander"

"Crooked as the River Jordan," is an old expression, but there are streams that make Jordan look straight. In the old days when packet steamers were popular as transportation up and down the Mississippi, passengers used to get out at many of the sharp bends and walk across a narrow neck of land to rest from the tedious trip, the steamer arriving sometimes an hour later. The White river in Arkansas is another erratic stream. It travels 1,000 miles in traversing a distance of 30 miles.

Industrial League Results

Gasco A was defeated by the Silk Mills, 43-26, and Schilling dropped a game to Elcos, 37-34, in the Industrial League games Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. court.

The first game was fast and interesting. The score at the half was 14-13 in favor of the Gasco A. Although the losers held the score at the half, they could not hold their opponents in the final period. Deraff, of the Silk Mills, was leading individual scorer with 18 points.

The Elcos copped an overtime game from the Schilling five. The winners were handicapped playing in the final periods with only four men. The score at the half was held by the Schilling quintet, 20-17. In the third quarter three men were ousted from the game on personals, two from Schillings and one from Elcos. Both teams fought hard and when the final whistle blew, the score was deadlocked at 31. With only six men on the court, three from each team, an extra period of three minutes was played. Newman sank a field for Schillings, but Craw then found the hoop once from scrimmage and once from the foul line. Then two points collected by Leverett put the Elcos in the lead by three points. "Manager" Quinn, with 21 points, was leading scorer.

MUSICAL RECITAL WAS APPRECIATED.

The recital by Elizabeth Heybruck and Caroline Port, pianists, pupils of Miss Ethel Manierstock, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Johnston, soprano soloist, in the lecture room of Trinity M. E. Church on Tuesday evening, proved to be a musical treat to the appreciative audience.

The young musicians captivated their hearers with their first number for two pianos given with much assurance, beautiful shading and with that oneness of tone which is so hard to acquire. The last number, also for two pianos, was given in the same clear cut fascinating manner.

The sonata, that masterpiece of the matchless Beethoven, was surprisingly well rendered as to interpretation, tonal qualities and excellent technique. Indeed, the whole program, which was an ambitious one, merited the applause and praise which the audience unstintingly gave.

Mrs. Johnston's singing added greatly to the enjoyment of all present and she graciously gave two encores.

The program was as follows:

Valse Vive—"Agole" ..... Fontaine

A World Thinker

The need of the hour is for a world thinker. Most of us are like flies that buzz around a very small area—and perhaps get caught or swatted before we even get into the next room. At this state of civilization—and we have quite a considerable civilization at the moment—we need men who do not buzz about a small area but who can look all up and down the long road along which the caravan of history has passed and is passing.

We need men with perspective—world thinkers.—Grove Patterson, in the Mobile Journal.

Morphia Tests

Morphia is a very common poison, but its presence is easy to detect by the chemist. With no great difficulty he can detect the presence of even one-twenty-thousandth part of a grain! The usual residue having been obtained, an addition of iodic acid is made, and then, should morphia be present, the whole at once turns blue when a little starch-paste is added. Alternatively, chloride of zinc may be added, and the mixture, when heated, produces a beautiful and lasting green color.

Rarin' to Go

An Alabama man declares that the briefest courtship of all was that of a darkey couple in that state. It ran about as follows: Rastus speaking first:

"Why don't you take me?"

"'Cause you' ain't ast me."

"Well, now I asts yo'."

"Well, now I has yo'."

Took Many Years to Produce Modern Bed

Included in the world's long list of human benefactors is the unknown man who first invented beds. The earliest beds — wicker bedsteads, formed of the midribs of palm leaves —are found figured in ancient Egyptian paintings. Ages ago the Egyptians either slept on their day couches, which were long and straight, sometimes possessing a back made of bronze, alabaster, gold, or ivory, and richly cushioned, or they reposed on low pallets made of palm boughs, with wooden pillows hollowed out for the head.

A recent writer reminds us that the evolution of beds in England stretches over a period of 700 years. Throughout the Thirteenth century even kings' beds consisted very largely of straw.

In later medieval times people all but sat up in their beds, so high at the upper end were the long mattresses lifted on piles of cushions. After the Twelfth century beds were occasionally made of bronze and other metals, but more often of wood, carved and encrusted with ornament. Narrow at first, they gradually increased in size until they reached a width of four yards. In such huge beds, we are told, "parents, children and sometimes dogs, were wont to take their night's rest."

Military Watches

In early Hebrew history, about 3,000 years ago, it was the custom of the tribes, which then lived in camps which they moved from place to place, to set a watch against surprise attacks by roving bands of robbers from the north. They divided their nights into convenient watches of about four hours each. It appears that they adopted the custom from military practices then prevailing. Military custom calls for two-hour watches as being safer because there is less likelihood that the soldier on guard will become tired, sleepy or otherwise indifferent to the importance of his task.

History Set Down as Work of Imagination

All histories that are not mere compilations of dates, records and statistics are works of the imagination; for the testimony of eyewitnesses is extremely fallible, especially when an event is calamitous or dramatic; and the report that we have upon the nature of any person or thing is governed entirely by the temperament of the person who gives it. People with the irresponsible imaginations of children will tell you of events in which they participated and will seem to believe their fictions even when you know they are fibbing. Also it is the habit of man to englamor his past and to exalt himself among his fellows whenever an occasion arises in which he can dramatize himself before an audience as the hero of an event, concerning the truth of which the audience can have no knowledge.—Burton Rascoe in the Bookman.

From a vaudeville review, in the year 2125: "A program of early American dances followed, the team concluding its performance with the stately charleston."

Fall Silhouettes Offered by Paris

Molded Bodice, Higher Waistline, Flaring Skirt Are on Style Card.

Out of an infinite variety of lines launched for fall and winter five silhouettes stand out, observes a Paris fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. There is first the tunic silhouette, quite straight and with a high waistline; there is the flared skirt outline with a bodice made semiconforming by means of diagonal seaming; there is the combination of molded bodice and flaring skirt with uneven hemline reaching its highest point at the front and its lowest point at the sides, there is the coat silhouette which closes at one side, achieving the effect of a fitted bodice, natural waistline and flaring skirt, and there is the tiered outline sometimes spiral and sometimes circular. Other contours, of course, have been offered by the haute couture, but these have been tacitly agreed upon as the dominant silhouettes of the new season.

Mary Nowitzky, who is a specialist in pajamas, negligees and sports clothes, gives velvet a prominent place for pajamas and negligees, while satin and georgette are almost equal as media.

Sports clothes are exceedingly simple in salt-and-pepper woolens, and woolens such as Rodier's tucked jersey in brown, banded with natural quilted Tusiikasha.

Paul Caret emphasizes fronts of frocks by dipping the hemline at the side front, by varied use of draperies in the front, apron effects, long fichus, which may be adjusted as a scarf, the spiral working of the square of the material and tiers. There is a pronounced tendency, in evening clothes, to pose a thin material such as lace or chiffon over heavier fabrics such as satin, with lame motifs or lame bands appliqued thereon.

Yteb brings varied skirt themes, which include scalloped hems, Turkish draperies in chiffon types, inverted plaits, especially those let in low in a sports type; fan plaits, deep side dips for hemline irregularity, big bows posed over one hip, overskirts which sometimes dip in the back, overlapping, harlequin edge points which move unevenly in floating panel lines, and fine tucks placed at the yokeline to give snugness to this portion of the silhouette, and yet permit wide fullness.

Bernard et Cie show a decided use of diagonal openings in coats and suit jackets, although there are numbers of coats with straight, regulation closings. Little velvet jackets with silk skirts, hip length and seven-eighth suit jackets, coat-frock fronts in dresses, wool embroidery in coats and frocks, side flares and points in skirt sections of coats as well as frocks with fancy, rather snug lines used sometimes in the skirt proper, and plain side drapes, full-length vertical tucks in coat sleeves, scalloped hemlines and worked deep hems in coats are notable in this collection.

Max furs bring both all-fur coats and cloth coats trimmed with fur in which sports types of calf coats are quite straight, with low inset bands of the fur finely piped at each side as if the fur were cut on the bias.

Shimmer of Metal Lace Adds to Charming Gown

Beige chiffon over gold lace fashions this beautiful costume. The coat effect allows the shimmer of a metal lace to show in front and the jabot fullness lends softness about the neck. A series of gold leaves form the shoulder flower which cascades to the waist.

New Scarfs

New scarfs to wear with sports clothes are really squares of different sheer, hand-painted in the most lovely colors and designs. They are sometimes knotted at the neck or worn hanging from the left pocket.

Paine Not Mercenary

Thomas Paine was editor of the Pennsylvania Magazine for 18 months. His salary was $250 a year. Moncure Conway has said that probably no person ever before or since has produced so much good literary work for such meager compensation.

Dangerous Jobs

Firing a railroad locomotive stands fifth among the most dangerous American occupations in a table prepared by the labor bureau, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The percentage of deaths from accidents among this class of workers is 43.6 while that of the highest, drivers in coal mines, is 81.1 per cent. Powder makers are second and railroad brakemen and electric linemen third and fourth.

Black Evening Frocks

A black evening frock is almost as essential to any wardrobe. It is especially smart and youthful if made of black dotted net or point d'esprit.

Forgetful

The forgetful man got to the railroad station a few minutes before train time, but he felt he had forgotten something.

He looked over his baggage. It was all there. He felt in his pocket. His wallet was bulging pleasantly. Absently he reached in another pocket and pulled out two tickets to Niagara falls and a marriage license. So that was it!

He groaned and rushed for a telephone booth.

But it was no use. He had forgotten the name and telephone number of the girl with whom he had intended to elope.—American Legion Monthly.

Campfield Found Dead in His Room

Former Rosendale Resident Was Preparing Morning Meal in His Room When Stricken—Death Due to Natural Causes.

Cyrus Campfield, an elderly man who occupied a room in the Albert Kreisig building at the corner of Broadway and St. James street, was found dead in his room this morning. He had evidently died of heart trouble after arising early for when the body was found shortly before 9 o'clock it was still warm. Mr. Campfield, who formerly resided in the town of Rosendale, rented a room from Mr. Kreisig and prepared light meals in the room which he also used for sleeping purposes.

It had been the custom of another lodger in the building to arouse Mr. Campfield each morning before going to work and this morning he performed the usual courtesy and then went for his work. Mr. Campfield evidently was awakened by the summons and arose and dressed himself and then started to prepare his morning meal. When the body was discovered the gas jets were lighted and the body was found seated on the edge of the bed fully dressed. Evidently seized with a bad spell after getting up, he sat down on the bed and when found he had fallen over with his head on the bed.

When Mr. Campfield failed to be dressed after attempts had been made to summons him, Mr. Kreisig called the police and together he and the police broke open the door and found the occupant of the room dead. Dr. Van Norstrand was called and Coroner W. N. Conner was notified. An investigation showed that Mr. Campfield, who was a man nearly 70, had died of natural causes, evidently heart trouble.

Some time ago he had been treated at the hospital for heart trouble and it is probable that death was caused by a recurrence of that trouble.

After an investigation, Coroner Conner issued the necessary permit and the body was held pending notification of relatives.

Mr. Campfield is survived by a nephew, Alonzo Campfield of Rosendale.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Lindbergh Given Plea for Freedom

From the People of Porto Rico to the People of the United States Message Likened to the Cry of Patrick Henry.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 3 (AP)—A plea for the freedom of Porto Rico in the form of a "message from the people of Porto Rico to the people of the United States," was entrusted to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today at a special session of the Porto Rican Legislature which conferred a medal of honor upon the American aviator.

After recounting the brilliant triumphs of Colonel Lindbergh and extending to him a warm welcome to "a worthy son of the American Eagle" the message read:

"The good wishes of Porto Rico will go with you to the land of the brave and free, and to your country and to your people you will convey a message of Porto Rico not far different from the cry of Patrick Henry —"Liberty or Death"—it is the same in substance with but a difference imposed by the change of time and consideration.

"The message of Porto Rico to your people is 'grant us the freedom that you enjoy, for which you struggled and which you worship; which we deserve and you have promised us. We ask the right to a place in the sun of this land of ours brightened by the stars of your glorious flag'."

In thanking the Legislature for its welcome, Lindbergh made no reference to the message entrusted to him but began an address on commercial aviation, saying that it was easy to link the Island of Porto Rico and the United States by air and that figuratively it would be done tomorrow.

Breaks Arm While Skating.

Edwin Fuller, manager of the Grand Union Tea Store at Ellenville, met with an unusual accident while skating several nights ago. His skate runner suddenly imbedded itself in a crack in the ice and he was thrown heavily forward to the ice. In his effort to save himself a more serious fall, he fell across his outflung arm, breaking and dislocating it.

Stewart Will Not Answer

Oil Magnate Stands Fast by His Decision to Refuse to Answer Questions Whether He Discussed Profits of Continental Trading Company.

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP).—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, persisted today in his defiance of the Senate oil investigating committee.

The oil magnate stood fast by his decision to refuse to answer questions as to whether he had discussed with Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome, the profits of the extinct Continental Trading Company, which made millions by buying oil for $1.50 a barrel in the United States and selling it back to the Stewart and Sinclair Companies for $1.75.

Recalled to the witness stand facing citation for contempt, the Standard Oil man stubbornly resisted the attempts of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, to testify on a question which he said should be placed first by a judge and jury. He is a witness in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial growing out of the Teapot Dome lease.

Before he appeared, Beman G. Dawes, brother of the vice president, former Senator Thomas of Colorado, and A. E. Humphreys, Jr., of Denver, were placed on the stand to dispute his testimony that a price of $1.75 for the Continental oil had been mentioned in their presence at the conference in New York, where the famous deal was consummated.

After preliminary sparring between Walsh and the witness when Stewart was recalled, the prosecutor finally asked:

"Did you know anything about the purchase of Liberty bonds by the Continental?"

"Repeating what I have said before," the witness replied, "I don't think I should answer."

"Were you ever consulted about the purchase of these bonds?"

"I reiterate what I said before."

"Were you ever consulted about the disposition of the bonds?"

Stewart hesitated.

"Why did you hesitate," Walsh asked.

"That is none of your business, Senator, nor is it any of the business of the committee. I say that with all deference."

Then the Standard official again declined to answer.

Walsh propounded a series of questions as to what Stewart knew about the disposition of the bonds and he declined to answer again on the grounds given yesterday—that the case was in the courts.

"FENCE" BILL INTRODUCED IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Albany, Feb. 3 (AP).—Conviction of a "fence" or receiver of stolen goods, would be possible upon the testimony of the person who stole and sold him the material under the provisions of a "fence" bill introduced in the legislature today by the State Crime Commission.

Holding that the "fence" is a master mind of the criminal world, "if not the absolute dictator of crimes", the commission embodied in the measure a provision that the person who furnished the "fence" with the stolen goods shall be deemed his accomplice, and shall be free to furnish a jury with testimony. This would be allowed, it was explained, "notwithstanding the fact that he (the thief) may have been charged with the theft, or have been convicted of other thefts or previously committed crime."

Trust Co. Vault Will Be Modern

Concrete, Armor Plate, Steel and Iron Bars Go Into Construction of New Vault of Kingston Trust Company.

The construction of the new vault, a part of the improvements being made to the Kingston Trust Company building on main street at Fair street, attracts the attention of many people as the work is carried on. The vault, which is being erected at the north of the building, is one of the most modern in construction and is being built by the York Safe and Lock Company. Under the main vault is a storage vault for the storing of valuable articles. This vault, built in the cellar, is now completed with the exception of the armor plate with which it will be lined. Reinforced concrete a foot and a half in thickness with numerous iron bars set in the concrete will make up the sides and floors of this vault. Directly over the storage vault on the ground floor level is the main vault for the storing of currency.

Work on the main vault is now going on. The floor of the vault which forms the ceiling of the lower vault is now being laid. Over the concrete floor is laid several thicknesses of steel trusses, all tied together with steel wire. Over this network of steel and into the interstices is poured concrete to a thickness of 18 inches. These iron bars are all connected up and will be electrically connected with the burglar alarm so that the least touch of a drill will set the alarm in motion. Inside this concrete fortification will go the steel armor plate which will form the inside wall of the vault.

As soon as the vault is completed work on rebuilding the bank will be rushed so that it may be used as soon as possible. The old vault in the bank will not be demolished until the new one is ready for use. The entire bank will be rebuilt and the entire ground floor used for banking purposes. The second floor will house offices and the officials' rooms.

During alterations the Trust Company will occupy temporary quarters in the Cohen Building at 48 Main street. The bank will be moved to that location as soon as actual demolishing operations in the bank are commenced.

Water Returns to American Falls

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 3 (AP).—The American Falls of mighty Niagara were roaring and booming again today after a condition yesterday so unusual it was regarded as a phenomena. For several hours an ice jam in the Niagara diverted the water to the Canadian shore and over the Canadian falls, causing less water to go over the American falls than in any other time before in thirty years.

It was believed possible to walk across the river channel from the mainland to Goat Island, just above the American falls, and with the aid of a pair of boots it would have been easy to walk across above Goat Island bridge. No one attempted the feat however.

With the breaking of the ice jam late last night water again is crashing over the ice-coated American falls.

STRIKE IN PROTEST AGAINST INCOME TAX.

Hendaye, Franco Spanish Frontier, Feb 3 (AP).—Advices from Barcelona, Spain, indicate that seventy per cent of the workers there are on strike in protest against the latest income tax.

The strike is said to be spreading rapidly, but without disorder.

The authorities placed the number of persons who quit work at one-third of the total employed. It is understood here that 33 factories in one suburb, Sans, have shut down completely and that other districts are similarly affected.

The newest Spanish income tax applies to wages of 2,250 pesetas (roughly $555 a year).

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Prices broke sharply at the opening of today's stock market on selling inspired by the unexpected increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate, and then rallied in sensational fashion. Early losses of one to six points were materially reduced or wiped out and in many cases supplemented by gains, some of which ran to nearly 9 points. Trading was unusually heavy at the opening but turned dull on the rally.

Early selling was based on the belief that Federal Reserve bank's action was intended as an official warning against the further expansion of speculative credit. The reaction was an orderly one, and there were no wide open breaks. Lowering of the renewal rate on call money from 4½ to 4½ per cent, which served to dispel fears of an immediate credit stringency, started the covering movement.

Speculators for the decline hammered stocks at the opening in expectation of forcing a major reaction such as swept through the market in March, 1926. Operators for the rise contend, however, that a major bear market is only warranted when there is a general necessity to convert securities into cash, which they assert does not now exist.

Burroughs Adding Machine, which broke six points to 156 at the opening, rallied to a new high record at 164. Detroit Edison soared nearly 9 points above yesterday's closing to a new peak price. New Haven common and preferred, "Katy" preferred, Vanadium Steel, Consolidated Gas, Continental Can and Cudahy Packing sold at their best prices in five years or longer. General Motors recovered part of its initial decline but U. S. Steel common had only recovered part of its initial decline of 1½ points by early afternoon. Public utilities were again heavily bought.

Marks End of "Copy"

The origin of "30" as used in newspaper copy is not definitely known. It is derived directly from telegraphy, where it is used at the end of a dispatch. It is suggested that it may have originated in the custom of putting XXX at the end of a message.

War Leader Dies

Earl Haig (above), commander-in-chief of the British armies in France during the World War, passed away at his home in London after a heart attack. He succeeded General Sir John French as chief of the British Field Forces in the late war.

Advantage of Sincerity

He who is sincere hath the easiest task in the world, for, truth being always consistent with itself, he is put to no trouble about his words and actions; it is like traveling in a plain road, which is sure to bring you to your journey's end better than byways in which many lose themselves. —Tillotson.

Following the meeting Sunday there will be a social hour enjoyed.

SURPRISE PARTY AND CAKE SALE FOR SAWKILL CHURCH

Thursday afternoon a surprise party in the form of a cake sale for the benefit of St. Ann's Church, Sawkill, greeted its pastor, Father Hafford, as he called on his friend, Edward Hannon. It seems Mr. Hannon 'phoned Father Hafford in the morning in an off-hand sort of manner, asking him to drop in at 31 Brewster street if he happened to come in to Kingston in the course of the afternoon. The surprise was perfect.

The affair was arranged by Miss Mary Hannon and Mrs. T. J. Hannon; it was most enjoyable, and successful, socially and financially. Many of the patronesses were former parishioners of Sawkill in its palmier days. Some old friendships were renewed after a lapse of several years in many cases. The gentle, yet animated art of conversation was progressing at such a pitch, that it seemed humanly impossible for Father Hafford to secure a moment's silence among the ladies to thank them. Finally he hit upon an ingenious idea by suggesting a game. As all were alert for its details, he said: "Let's play the game of guessing who is the eldest lady here—then the next eldest and so on." Silence followed, profound, soothing, and deep—a tactful trick, which enabled Father Hafford to thank most sincerely the host and the hostesses, as well as all those who contributed to make the cake sale such a "sweet" and "substantial" success. By unanimous consent the ladies postponed the age-guessing game till the next generation.

Even Finest Violins Must Have Exercise

A violin, like a growing boy, according to the experts, is much better when kept busy. And dance tunes are just as good for "exercising" even a priceless Stradivarius as are the highest class concert numbers. A violin, bearing the date 1713 and believed to be a genuine "Strad," has been in the possession of the family of William McDonald of Rice Lake, Wis., says the Milwaukee Journal, for 175 years. Mr. McDonald, who owned the instrument for 53 years, has used it in old fiddlers' contests throughout this part of the state.

Inside the violin is this inscription: "Antonius Stradivaris Cremonensis. Faciebat Anno 1713" (Cremona of Antonio Stradivaris, made in the year 1713). The famous Cremona carver was at the height of his career as a violin maker in 1713, and all the evidence to be found in the family records leads the McDonalds to believe the instrument is an original of the noted maker.

Daily Loss of Weight

The loss of weight that we undergo every day has been the object of recent research, says Science. In the experiments, conducted by the Carnegie Institution at Washington, two sensitive balances were used. Both were strong enough to weigh a man, but delicate enough to register minute changes in weight. One of the balances would indicate a change of one-third of an ounce, and a person could sleep all night on its platform. The other was a hundred times as sensitive, but could be occupied only for an hour or so at a time. The total moisture losses through the lungs and skin of a woman of average weight averaged around 30 grams, or one ounce per hour; for a man the figure was about one-third higher.

Reception for Father Jablonski

On Monday evening last a great reception was tendered the Rev. Francis Jablonski at the Parish House of the Immaculate Conception Church on Delaware avenue. A large number of his brother priests assembled to pay their respects to the young energetic administrator of the Immaculate Conception Church during the absence in Europe of the pastor, the Rev. Ignatius Bialdyga.

Father Jablonski arrived in Kingston Monday accompanied by members of his immediate family and here a surprise awaited him. He was first met by a large delegation of school children, who paid him their tribute and presented many presents. A substantial gold purse was then offered him. The purse was made possible by the activities of the Children of Mary Sodality of the parish. Surrounded by a very happy circle, made up of friends, members of his family and clergy, Father Jablonski reviewed his time spent in Kingston. He expressed delight in his work here, which was made very happy by the hand of fellowship extended him by everybody in Kingston.

The main address of the occasion was delivered by the Rev. Joseph Zaniewicz, rector in New York city, and traveling companion during the European trip of the Rev. Ignatius Bialdyga, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church. He described some personal and other experiences encountered on the trip and in a happy weave of jokes told of the jubilant's qualifications, as a humble and executive man of God in whom Father Bialdyga reposed such trust and found himself rewarded for it plentifully.

Attacked by Wolves

Alice Carr, American nurse in Near East, was saved from being devoured by wolves in the desert between Mosul and Bagdad. Her auto had broken down on the brink of a precipice, and she had wandered helplessly for three days before being attacked. She was saved by a British officer with Syrian soldiers who fought off the wolves with rifle fire.

(Reprinted from Forbes Magazine of February 1, 1928)

A Hammerstein Joke

It was at a dinner party in London before the war. Lady Cunard was seated between Mr. Asquith, then British prime minister, and Sir Thomas Beecham, the musician, who derives his wealth from a famous pill. Opposite this trio sat Oscar Hammerstein, then trying to conquer London with his grand opera. During the dinner Oscar got out his pencil, scribbled something on the back of a menu card, and passed it over to Lady Cunard. This is what she read:

"I see you are seated between the prime minister and the prime administer."

Preferences in Love

When we are told that we are loved for our body, but not for our mind, we not only are easily consoled, but frequently quite delighted. We feel that we are loved "for ourselves," as we say. On the contrary, when we are told that we are loved for our mind only, we are generally insulted and hurt. We understand that we are loved for something that is really extrinsic and, in the final count, of slight merit.—Plain Talk Magazine.
